

Moran Speaks on Health Care Reform Debate

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Congressman Jerry Moran today responded to the recent release of the House Democrats' $1.3 trillion health care reform legislation.

Moran discussed health care reform today by responding to the following questions during a taped interview:

1. This week, House Democrats unveiled their health care reform bill. Following the release of this bill, how do you see the debate unfolding and what will be the major issues of contention?

2. How do we reform our health care system to preserve health care quality and control costs for Kansans?

3. How do we preserve and enhance Kansas small businesses in health care reform?

4. What suggestions do you have for health care reform? How can we reduce escalating health care costs and strengthen health care quality?

Democratic congressional leaders and President Obama have vowed to pass a comprehensive overhaul of the health care system before the August congressional recess in two weeks. As Chairman of the House Rural Health Care Coalition and co-founder of the Congressional Community Pharmacy Coalition, Moran continues to demand that Congress consider the unique health care needs of Kansans.
